

OHMS Annual Food Drive

Every year the week prior to Thanksgiving, National Hunger & Homelessness Awareness Week is held. The annual OHMS canned food drive to help eliminate hunger and homelessness this holiday season was a success. The students, staff and families worked together to collect a total of 3,338 food and can donations to benefit our local Rescue Mission. Mrs. Beauvais' 6th grade class collected the most items, and helped load them onto the Rescue Mission truck. We thank everyone for their participation in helping our community!

Cherry Road School

Fourth Grade Drama Club

The 4th grade Drama Club did a fantastic job performing “Alice in Christmasland” this year. The students and their directors worked for several months to memorize lines and stage the performance. We were able to have families in to watch the performance on our newly renovated stage here at Cherry Road. All students at Cherry Road School were able to watch the performance via livestream. Kudos to the performers!

Winter Clothing Drive

Cherry Road students helped WEST organize winter clothing for the winter clothing drive. They sorted clothing by size and type to be donated to local charities. It was a great opportunity for students to participate in a service learning project.

IDEAS Club

During the month of January, which is poverty awareness month, fourth graders in our IDEAS club are collecting socks. They will distribute the socks as well as cards to homeless shelters for individuals in need. Socks are traditionally the most requested but least donated item to the homeless. It is a great way for our Cherry Road community to participate in some service learning. Pictured are students putting together bags of essential items to distribute to people in need at their most recent meeting.

Cherry Road and Onondaga Hill Middle Schools

Hour of Code

For one week in December, Onondaga Hill Middle and Cherry Road Schools participated in the Hour of Code. Hour of Code is a world-wide event that introduces computer science concepts to students such as coding or programming. Students can work on coding puzzles using critical thinking, collaboration and problem-solving. The students absolutely loved it!

Here is what students had to say: "It's fun because I get to use my imagination." ~Griffin J.; "It's like a new experiment. If you like video games, you can learn how to code them." ~Ethan W.; "It's like a game but it's learning!" ~Katie C. and "I like hour of code because I get to be creative." Kierra M.

To find out more about how students can learn to code, visit www.code.org. It's a great at home cold weather, rainy day activity!

Pride Club Welcomes Guest Speaker

The OHMS Pride Club has been off and running this year. Many students gather together to show support, take time to be together and do activities for our school. Guest speaker from the Onondaga Free Library, Alyssa Newton, joined us at our last meeting. Mrs. Newton presented about many activities available at the library on nights and weekends, shared several popular novels to our group and did a creative activity making pins. We are so very grateful for the opportunity and support!

Creative Instruction

Mrs. Martin's 5th grade class made yarn dolls as a fun way to wrap up the first EL Module. The students read Esperanza Rising by Pam Munoz Ryan and other stories that focused on human rights. The yarn doll is a significant symbol in the text as it represents a turning point in the story for the main character.

STEM and Social Studies Working Together

Fifth grade students have been learning about the Maya, Aztec and Inca civilizations and how these societies were very complex. In particular, they studied the advanced agricultural farming methods of the Aztecs. Because their capital city was located in the middle of a lake, the Aztecs created floating gardens or "chinampas" which became an aquaculture for them to fish, farm and raise animals. The students were engaged in a STEM challenge to design and build their own floating garden in which they would grow chia seeds. A huge thank you to the Parent Council who donated the funds to make this project a hit for all.

Ms. O'Brien's 7th grade art students shined a light on their creativity. Their radial design projects required planning and perseverance and each student produced beautiful works of art!

ECOS Participates in CNY Youth Climate Summit

ECOS members met with local leaders, experts and neighboring high school groups to better understand the complexities of climate change. They spent time engaging in dialogue centered around how we are contributing to the problem, and how to make a positive impact in their school and homes. Students used the knowledge gained from guest speakers to develop a year-long action plan. Members began implementing some ideas right away, starting with a reusable utensil sale. Students sold reusable bamboo silverware sets, which included stainless steel straws (and brush cleaners) in an effort to encourage both students and staff from using plastic one-time-use silverware. The sale was a huge success! The group can't wait to begin implementing their other ideas.

Holiday Gift Giving

On December 3, DECA students went to St. Lucy's to help volunteers set up for their holiday gift giving program. They worked very hard organizing clothes, toys and household goods for the event the next day. It was a wonderful experience for all.

Agricultural Connection

Mr. Speziale's Global 9 class has been focusing on the development of ancient civilizations. One essential question was, "What factor led early humans from the Stone Age into the more developed and advanced society of early civilizations?" The leading cause of the development of civilizations was the introduction of systematic farming with access to fresh water. In order to cement this idea into students' thinking, they have been introduced to a classroom garden to make connections to the content. The students planted beets, arugula, spinach and carrots using a system of planned rows and tools. With access to a kitchen nearby, students continue to water the plants and care for them as they grow. The garden has allowed students to make connections to the vocabulary words agriculture and domestication through the use of real-world application skills and hands-on learning. The classroom garden is not only integral to the current social studies topic, but has an interdisciplinary component as well.

Every day, Mr. Patrie's class has been measuring the plant growth and tracking the data. The students will be showing this data on a graph. Additionally, Mrs. Kurro's English class is reading the City of Ember, a novel by Jeanne DuPrau, in which they are making connections between the underground society to the specialized jobs and farming that keeps that civilization in order. The garden allows for visuals, connections and hands-on learning that can be used in both academics and the real world. We are looking forward to continuing to make those connections as we go forward with our school year!

Westhill High School

Scholastic Art Competition

Students in Miss McHale's photography classes competed in the annual Scholastic Art Competition. The Scholastic Art Competition is open to all students in grades 7-12 who submit artwork in 28 categories. Two students from the high school won a total of three awards this year. Ilham Thabet (Collision, top left) and Kahlil Franks (Frozen Heart, top right) won Silver Key Awards. Ilham Thabet also won Honorable Mention for Golden Hour (bottom). All three pieces will be on display at OCC in the Whitney Applied Technology Center starting January 18 through March 4, 2022.

Scholar-Team Athletes

At the end of each sports season, the New York State Public High School Athletic Association (NYSPHSAA) honors those teams and individuals that excel in the classroom. Those student-athletes, teams and schools work very hard throughout the year and deserve to be recognized for their academic success. To receive Scholar-Athlete Team recognition, the team's average GPA for 75% of the roster must be greater than or equal to 90%. If a team does not meet the Scholar-Athlete Team Criteria, the individuals on that team with a 90% or above GPA are considered individual Scholar-Athletes.

This fall, Westhill had eight out of our nine varsity teams earning the team honor. Scholar-Athlete teams include girls' tennis, boys' soccer, girls' soccer, girls' cross country, boys' cross country, girls' swim, volleyball and boys' golf. We had 168 varsity athletes participating in the fall sports program. Out of this 168, 121 earned a 90% or greater average for the 1st quarter. Congratulations, student athletes!

PRIDE Club Angels

The Westhill High School PRIDE Club has been busy the last few weeks partnering with ACR Health of Syracuse to brighten the holidays for one local family as part of the "Holiday Angels" program. The program helps clients that struggle with chronic diseases. Most come to ACR Health because they lack extra funds for clothing and sometimes they lack shelter or money for food or medications. Thank you very much to PRIDE members and some students in Mrs. Bower's health classes who purchased items for the family and helped them have more joyful holiday season!

French Club Field Trip

In December, the French Club visited the Munson-Williams-Proctor Arts Institute in Utica. They saw an amazing exhibit of Belgian artist Isabelle de Borchgrave's work called "Fashioning Art from Paper". This exhibit focused on her recreations of historical costumes, all life-sized and all in paper. The students enjoyed a guided tour of the exhibit as well as some time on their own to explore the museum's other artworks. The visit concluded with a relaxing lunch in the museum's restaurant, the Terrace Café. Stay tuned for our next field trip and our trip to Québec and Montréal in February of 2023. Be sure to sign up! Ask Mme Amerault or M. Zimmerman for details.

Coats for Refugees

WHS Character Ed and OHMS Student Council held a winter clothing drive for Syracuse Refugees. Both groups have been collecting and donating items for the past 5+ years for incoming refugee families. This year, we collected a record amount, totaling 49 full sized utility bags full of hats, coats, mittens and other assorted winter gear! We would like to thank all the families who helped support the success of this initiative. Your kindness will help spread a lot of warmth this winter.

Rules to Live By

Sixth graders launched their "Rules to Live By" module by researching, writing and publicly speaking about influential people who left positive impacts on our world. The incredible students in Mrs. Prince's classes launched "Project Inspire OHMS" to spread a culture of diversity, strength, unity and inclusion for all to see as they walk the halls each day. Their inspirational posters can be found throughout the whole school!
